

COME HOME MY CHILD

Written by: KEVON E. BARNES

1. I know sometimes you feel you can't go on
You feel like giving up, like all your hope is gone
Like a lost sheep in the wilderness,
You long to feel the tenderness
And care that the Master gives to you
You might be lost but not forgotten
The Master says to you
'Cause when you feel despaired and hopeless
He's there to see you through

Chorus

*Come home my child,
To the One who knows your burdens and your cares
Come home my child, He's able to wipe away your tears
Come home my child, He's feeling the desires of your heart
Come home my child, and receive a brand new start*

2. I know sometimes you feel a bit discouraged
And all your burdens, they seem so hard to bear
Separated from the Father's fold,
We feel dismayed and all alone
But its ok because the Master feels your pain
For Jesus is calling all the sheep that are lost
And he says, "Come home, come back my child
And leave your burdens at the Cross".

Bridge: Despair is over, Never let go
Pain will be lost forever. Keep holding on.
